AND NACO SLATED FOR ANOTHER BIG BATTLE

Facing Intrusion From Federal Forces, State Troops of Sonora Are Pushing Vigorous Campaign in Northern District

WILL RETURN TO GUAYMAS

Intend to Take All Important Positions and Then Be Ready to Give Formidable Opposition to Huerta's Men

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]
NOGALES, March 21.—Facing the intrusion of federal forces from Guaymas, the California gulf port of southern Sonora, officials of the insurgent state decided today to hasten the campaign against Naco and Cananea, the only remaining federal garrisons in the north. After crushing Gen. Ojeda at Naco on the Arizona border, and Col. Moreno at Cananea, the American mining center below the border, all available state troops will be rushed against Guaymas. The report today that four thousand Huerta soldiers are being hurried by train from Pacific coast points to Guaymas, where one thousand federalists are already located, will occasion great haste in completing the northern campaign.

While neither Naco nor Cananea now contains more than 350 federalists, nearly 1500 state troops were mobilized today at Del Rio, midway between Cananea and the border. General Ojeda, at the head of all the state forces, is in personal command of the column which moved on three trains with an ample supply of food stuffs, ammunition, two field pieces and a number of machine guns. Leaving Ojeda temporarily to the internal problem of preventing desertions over the border into Arizona, it was decided first to attack Cananea, returning immediately by rail against Naco. Already the state troops are mobilizing along the Sonora railway north of Guaymas to prevent any sudden sally of the federalists against Hermosillo, the state capital. But not until the northern campaign is completed can a force be organized to oppose any formidable advance of the Huerta troops. Also, the state authorities must guard the Chihuahua frontier. While General Rabago cannot leave the vicinity of Chihuahua City, because of the activity of the constitutionalists to the south of him, it is feared that other insurgent leaders will follow Antonio Rojas who has entered western Sonora.

Max Muller, German consul agent and banker of Hermosillo will probably be brought to Nogales, Sonora, tomorrow. Mystery surrounds the cause of his detention at the state capital and the raiding of Banco de Sonora, of which he is vice president and manager. The state officials declare that Muller had written letters to Mexico City asking that federal troops be sent to subdue the Sonora rebellion and in other ways showed his partisanship. Efforts of diplomatic agents of both Germany, United States and Sonora, failed to obtain the German banker's unconditional release. He has been held as a prisoner at his home by the constitutionalists, despite the activity of the German and United States diplomats and the appeals of his friend, L. Bratter, a German resident who arrived here today, and said that he had offered 20,000 pesos for Muller's release, but it was refused. Muller was arrested upon his refusal to negotiate a loan.

VILLA WANTS HELP

EL PASO, March 21.—"Dear Senor Don General Antonio Rabago. You asked my extradition from the United States. Now I am in Mexico. Come and get me."

This message was received here today from Francisco Villa, a former Madero insurgent general, who wrote from San Andres in Guerrero district west of Chihuahua City, to the state capital where General Antonio Rabago is located with two thousand federalists.

Villa, with a few followers, entered the field at Chihuahua from El Paso where he has sojourned since his escape from Mexico City. He had been imprisoned in the national capital by the order of General Huerta, provisional president.

Jose Inez Salazar, another Madero ex-insurgent chief, is reported to have secured a concession in the Casas Grandes district, southwest of Juarez. Salazar's troops will occupy Casas Grandes on the withdrawal of all federal soldiers. He will be made military governor of the district.

Salazar On Fence

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Inez Salazar, one of the foremost rebel chiefs of northern Mexico seems undetermined whether to cast his fortunes with Huerta or the factions still in arms against him. Meanwhile Juarez is reported undisturbed. Salazar is allowing the railroads to be repaired and trains are running in and out of Juarez.

Surrender Demanded

CANANEA, Sonora, March 21.—The demand for the surrender of this city was received today by the federal colonel in command. The demand came from Juan Cabral, commanding the state troops, who are now mobilizing at Del Rio. Cabral said he will attack in the morning, and urged all the women and children to be removed. Non-combatants are being rushed to the border points by automobiles.

The Cruiser Colorado the flagship of the Pacific fleet, is on patrol duty in the Pacific Mexican coast and her future movements have not been determined. Admiral Sutherland will come to Washington for duty on the general board of the navy. Rear Admiral Charles B. T. Moore, late on duty as commander of the naval station at Olongapo and Cavite P. Nearly Year Ago Woman Now Accused of Murdering Husband Wrote Her Attorney Asking What She Should Do

WAS AFRAID
HE WOULD KILL

Suggested That Woman Be Sent as Her Companion Who Could Detect Insanity and Whose Word Would Go With Doctors

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]
CHICAGO, March 21.—The nature of the relations between Rear Admiral Eaton and his wife, who is charged with his murder, became known here today through a letter written by Mrs. Eaton on March 15, 1911, to Marshall E. Gallion, the attorney who acted for her in her divorce proceedings against her first husband, Daniel Henry Ainsworth, in 1906. The letter was written from Ashippil, Mass.

"This poor man is dreadful," it said. "I fear to stay here this winter. My leaving him alone with my mother while I was in Chicago made him wild. If I had doubt of his insanity, which I never had, it has been removed quickly as he is so much worse."

"He is a sick, helpless and sad old man and it goes to my heart. He relies on me entirely. I am his eyes, brains and life, still how can I stay here alone and let him kill me and poor, little innocent Dorothy as he would do it and then wonder where we are. He is a most dangerous, subtle maniac and still I have no way of escape."

"Public opinion, his rank, age, navy and all are against me. All the doctors are too diplomatic and afraid to attempt to deal with him. It will cost me hundreds of dollars to get evidence, and take one year at least to get it in shape and then I will probably be outwitted by sentiment and pity."

"He is the most dangerous man you might meet in any place. Please help me. What shall I do? What would you advise as the most practical? After Friday I shall be here alone with him. Is it wise? He is so subtle and steady. Would you get a common, cheap woman just to have some one with me? Of course such a person may not be able to detect his trouble, only a person drilled in brain trouble and familiar with insanity."

"If he is as dangerous as I believe I must protect my life, so find out whether you can get a woman who is a 'Sherlock Holmes' in criminal insanity, of high moral character, of high standing with doctors and alienists and one whose word would go if she said he is insane and what you do the rest. Please see what you can do and advise me."

Will Recall Conversation

ROCKLAND, Mass., March 21.—A conversation between Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton and his family physician, Dr. Joseph Frame, a few hours before the admiral died, will have an important bearing it is understood, upon the further investigation into the cause of the admiral's death.

Mrs. Eaton is accused of having administered arsenic to the admiral on March 7. In the afternoon of that day Dr. Frame, who was called to attend Mrs. Eaton's mother, also examined the admiral. The latter died during the night.

A REALITY THAT PHILOSOPHY CANNOT REACH.

By John T. McCutcheon.

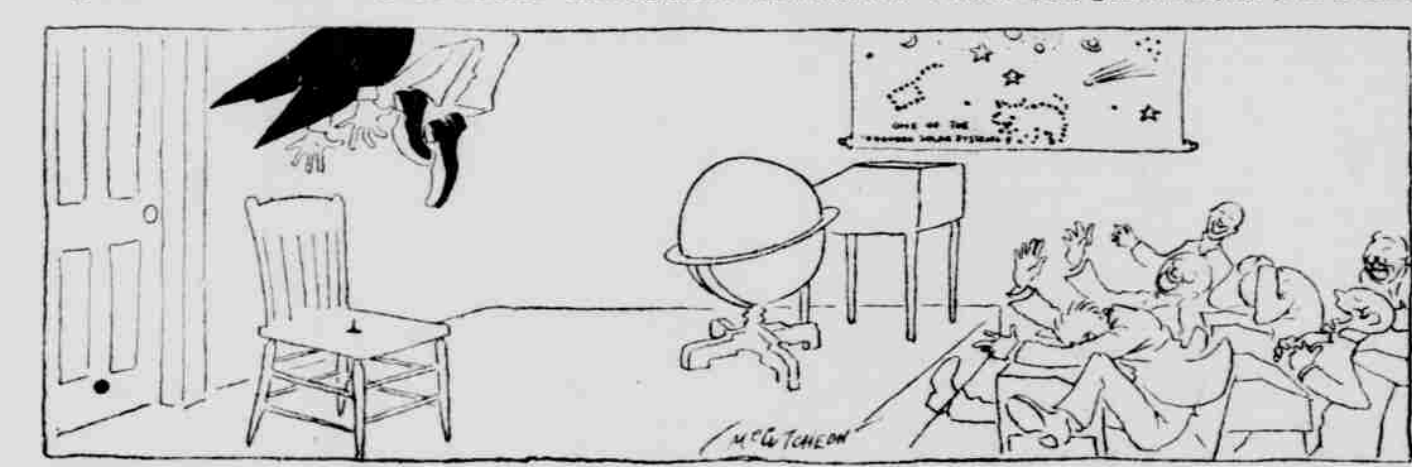

[Copyright, 1913, By John T. McCutcheon.]

"Ah, when we contemplate the vast infinity of space, how small our little human worries seem! How insignificant! We are like tiny insects, hurrying through our moment of existence! Our troubles seem big to us, but in reality they are infinitesimal when one considers that our planet is as a speck amidst the millions of worlds that go hurrying through the endless reaches of the universe."

"We should derive a useful lesson from the contemplation of the heavens. We should look upon our little worries as from a great height, realizing how petty they are as compared to the vast immensity of Nature! We should learn to bear our troubles calmly, for our life is as a flicker of light, now here, but quickly gone. When we have troubles we should pause and consider how small we are! Always pause and consider! I thank you, gentlemen, for your attention."

PRESIDENT HAS HANDS FULL IN FILLING POSTS

Wishes to See All Ambassadors and Other Offices Filled so He May Give Attention to Legislation in Next Congress

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]
WASHINGTON, March 21.—The president is making an effort to fill the most important diplomatic posts before the extra session begins so he may otherwise devote his energies when the time for legislation arrives. The president is desirous of filling the American embassy at London as quickly as possible and said he hopes that Charles W. Eliot former president of Harvard will accept, though there are intimations from some of Eliot's friends that he may decline.

George W. Guthrie, former mayor of Pittsburgh and democratic state chairman of Pennsylvania has been chosen ambassador to Mexico, but it is likely the announcement will be deferred until the state department formulates a policy with regard to the recognition of the Huerta government. It is certain however that the resignation of Henry Lane Wilson, the present ambassador to Mexico, will be accepted in this connection.

It is likely that John W. Garrett, Richard Princeton university, may be ambassador to Germany if he chooses was learned today by callers at the White House.

Prof. M. W. Jenks of Cornell university called at the White House today. He has been very much interested in the selection of John R. Mott of Monclair, N. J. and leader of the Y. M. C. A. to be minister to China and is said to be urging Mott on behalf of the president to accept the post.

For the ambassadorships to Italy, Austria, Brazil, Russia and Japan, no definite selections have been made, though Justice James W. Gerard of New York, Augustus Thomas, Thomas Nelson Page, Seth Low and William Church Osborne are still prominently mentioned in this connection. It is likely that John W. Garrett will continue as minister to Argentina and Maurice Francis as minister to Denmark. Joseph E. Willard of Virginia, Thomas H. Birch of New Jersey and Frederick C. Penfield of New York are also regarded as certain to be ministers in the diplomatic service.

Dr. Hugh Smith, assistant chief of the United States Bureau of Fisheries is slated to succeed George M. Bowers as head of the bureau. Secretary Redfield's decision to appoint Smith is in line with his announced policy to have the scientific bureau governed by men of technical training.

Both were exhausted. The hydroplane is reported lost.

September Morn
Is Not Immodest
But Work of Art

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]
CHICAGO, March 21.—"September Morn," a painting by a well known artist, depicting a young girl nude beside a fountain, is not a lewd picture according to the finding of a jury in the municipal court here.

Fred D. Jackson, an art dealer, was on trial for displaying in his shop window the alleged indecent picture, which was a copy of the famous original.

Among the witnesses called were a priest, several artists, an art critic, a probation officer, settlement workers and persons well known in society. Jackson was acquitted and the picture may be restored to its place in his shop window.

W. W. Hallam, a member of the vice commission, said he believed the picture was immodest because it showed a girl bathing in a public place.

Jackson tried to make Hallam state what part of the picture he considered indecent.

"No particular part," he said. "It arouses sensual feelings in ordinary people."

"Did it in you?"

"Yes," was the answer.

Miss Helen E. Jewell, for many years probation officer at Evanston, admitted she did not consider the picture immoral in the homes of her friends in Evanston. Miss Gertrude Howe Britton said she considered the picture indecent. Oliver S. Grover, an artist, made a strong statement in favor of the picture. Walter B. Smith, an art critic, declared the picture was not immodest, but rather was a work of art.

ing. Smith entered the bureau in 1896.

Chairman Underwood of the house ways and means committee, Representative Peter of Massachusetts, worked all day on the details of the customs house machinery, administrative sections of the democratic tariff revision bill and income tax features. The discussion continued tonight.

FREIDMANN HAS TO STOP TO MAKE MORE VACCINE

Treats Sixteen More Patients and Then Postpones Fourteen Others Until He Can Manufacture a New Supply

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]
NEW YORK, March 21.—Sufferers from tuberculosis whom Dr. F. F. Friedmann treated with vaccine before his departure from Berlin to this country are responding remarkably to the treatment, according to a cablegram received today by Dr. George Ohanlon, superintendent of Bellevue hospital.

The cablegram came from a Berlin physician.

Dr. Friedmann treated sixteen patients here today, but was obliged to postpone treatment of fourteen others until tomorrow morning from the fact that his vaccine was exhausted. He devoted most of the day to a preparation of a new supply.

Government is Cautious.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The public health service through Surgeon General Blue issued its first statement today relative to the government investigation of Dr. F. F. Friedmann's alleged tuberculosis cure. The statement emphasized the government's policy to proceed cautiously, stating it would be some time before the report would be forthcoming. He denies that the board of officers has expressed any opinion so far on the efficacy of the cure, and implies that certain changes manifested in the conditions of the patients up to this time are not to be taken to demonstrate the practicability of the use of the vaccine.

The statement follows:

"On March 8, the secretary of the treasury on the recommendation of the Surgeon General of the public health service caused a board of medical officers to be detailed to make a thorough investigation of Dr. Friedmann's alleged cure for tuberculosis."

"These officers proceeded immediately to New York and arranged with Dr. Friedmann for demonstrations of the remedy upon persons suffering from tuberculosis. These demonstrations are being carried on in certain New York hospitals through the courtesy of the respective authorities and will be continued until sufficient information has been obtained for forming an opinion of the merits of the treatment."

"Dr. Friedmann submitted to the board culture of the bacteria which he states he used in his method of treatment. In addition to observation of the persons under treatment

SIXTY DEAD
SCORES HURT
IN TORNADO

High Wind Sweeps Over the Central and Eastern States, Carrying Death and Devastation in Its Wake

DEATH LIST
STILL GROWS

When Wire Communication Is Resumed It Is Believed It Will Be Found That Many More Have Been Killed

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]

More than sixty persons are reported killed and hundreds injured, some seriously by a storm of tornado intensity which raged today over the central, western and southern parts of the eastern states. The property damage will run well into the millions. Definite information has been received accounting for more than forty dead with reports from points temporarily cut off from wire communication by the storm, adding hourly to the death list.

Reports from Alabama, show the loss of life was the heaviest in that state, the number of dead already being definitely placed at 28 with additional fatalities reported but not confirmed. The town of Lower Peach Tree was swept out. Two dead are in Indiana, two in Tennessee, three in Ohio, two in New York, one in Michigan and two in Louisville.

Accompanying the death list are estimates of injured totalling more than one hundred with additions coming in at brief intervals.

Coming up out of the southwest Friday morning just as the sun was ushered in the storm swept with stunning suddenness diagonally across the country from northern Texas to eastern Pennsylvania and eastern New York, bisecting the Mississippi valley and moving northward across Ohio into the Great Lake region.

Shifting winds of great violence accompanied in various sections with snow, sleet and hail characterized the storm which was easily the most destructive of the year and rarely equalled in scope of damage. Buildings toppled before the blow in nearly a dozen states and death lay in its wake.

Estimates of damage to property in Indiana and Michigan alone aggregate two million dollars. The wind attained a velocity of from fifty-two to eighty-eight miles an hour.

Twenty-nine are Dead.

MOBILE, March 21.—A special to the Register from Fulton, Fla., says that twenty-nine persons are known to have been killed at Lower Peachtree, Ala., by a cyclone which struck the place today. Many more were hurt and the property damage is large. Fifty were injured at Fulton.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 21.—A storm of tornado proportions, which swept Indiana caused early today damages estimated at one million. Later reports from over the state increased the loss, but the death list remained at two although several are reported fatally hurt. The wire service in the state is demoralized and many places are entirely without communication. Trees were blown across the trolley wires and delayed interurban cars and washouts on steam lines in the southern part of the state made travel uncertain. A cold wave following the storm added to the suffering and many homes were unroofed and windows were broken. A drop of thirty degrees bringing the temperature down to 20 above is predicted for the state.

Damage in Texas.

JEFFERSON, Tex., March 21.—Fifty to sixty thousand dollars damage was done though no lives were lost in the tornado that lasted two minutes here last night.

Smokestacks Down.

TIFFIN, Ohio, March 21.—William Wick was killed and six or eight others are believed to be buried in the debris of the smokestack of the county infirmary, which was wrecked today by a high wind. Three others were injured.

Ohio Boats Missing.

SANDUSKY, Ohio, March 21.—Two boats are missing, one on the rocks and another in distress in a seventy-mile gale that is sweeping the Sandusky bay today. It is feared that six or more are drowned. Lifesavers have gone to the assistance of six men who were in peril.

Another Five Dead.

MEMPHIS, March 21.—Five were killed and more than fifty injured by the storm last night at Poplar Bluff, Missouri, according to members of a train crew who arrived today, three
